Thursday 15th February

Dear parents/ carers

This year, we will be celebrating World Book Day on Thursday 7th March. On this day, we have the pleasure of being joined by Anna Doherty, an illustrator. Anna is closely linked with Pippa Goodheart, who visited us on World Book Day last year. She has illustrated books for her as well as having her own collections.

We are looking forward to welcoming Anna who will be visiting us to share her expertise, her love of books and spend time with the children. She will be hosting illustration workshops with the children throughout the day.

'Oh no! I hear you say. 'Does this mean my child has to dress up?' We understand that some children already have character outfits that they would love to share with our school community, but we recognise that this is not for everybody. This year, we have decided to continue with last year's theme of 'You Choose', so on the day your child can choose what they would like to wear. This could be a fancy-dress outfit, Sunday best or simply your child's favourite clothes. There are many book characters who wear everyday clothes, and there are some simple ideas on the attached PDF that link to the Official World Book Day £1 books.

Your child will receive a World Book Day voucher on this day.

We look forward to celebrating a love of reading. Thank you for your continued support.

Kind regards

Miss Watt
